- 1th day: Practical demonstration and production of sheets of recycled paper including plant, natural and textile elements, also using seeds to make paper for planting
- 2nd day: Collection of sheets of colored recycled paper, seeds, stones, small objects, some reproduction of old photographs and images retrieved from forgotten albums to create imaginary microworlds of memory, through collage and painting to make a book of memories. In this way the laboratory becomes an experience able to involve mind, body and heart, inducing to grasp similarities and differences between the present and the distant time, in which the slow progress of life and work was in full respect of one's own land.
- The final artifact will be brought and preserved as a treasure chest of memories and emotions.
